TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!

Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world." This line, the has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.

It is possitively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Room Sleeping Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretends to offer such advantages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES MCCABE, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

For Pamphlet and test report address N F BURNHAM, York, Pa.

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Friday, October 10th, 1873.

Our Democratic friends are so sympathetic. Now they are all weeping over the fate of the "poor Modocs." Such sentimentality, all of a sudden, is disgusting. As well might they say poor Foster, the car-hook murderer, or poor John Wilkes Booth.

The proposition of the New Jersey Constitutional Convention, to purge the Legislature of that State of bribery by swearing its members that they have not given or received rewards for votes, smacks of desperation. The idea that a man who is guilty of buying or selling his vote, would hesitate to forswear himself to cover the transaction is preposterous. A wretched state of morals must exist where such childish expedients are resorted to in order to purify a community. If the safeguards which immemorial law has given to secure decency in official life are not sufficient it is useless to add to the penalty. As Luther said of certain reformers of his day, it is piddling at curing warts, while ulcers are confirmed.

It may be considered an ungracious thing to say, but it is a fixed fact, that corruption in official life, has for its source corruption in the constituency. Integrity among the people will always secure purity in public men. They may be ignorant, and they may be unfeeling, but to the honor of their trust they will never be false. This reform to be effectual must begin with the people. So long as votes are for sale, so so long will buyers be found.

Such legislation is not only fallacious but is injurious. It is a burning shame that the penal statutes should be increased in the hope of securing public honesty. The lesson which history illustrates with most examples, is that the practice of virtue cannot be enforced by law, but can only arise from instilling morality in the minds of men.

This reform can proceed from the people only. Although intellectual efforts are unknown to the general masses, yet all social and moral progress begins with the people. If the cry of official corruption has any other foundation than the wish of those who are out to get in, then when the voters of the country can be made to perceive it, a remedy will be found. There is yet enough virtue in the masses of the United States to guard and preserve their liberty and honor, and it is not far from finding an expression when such a remedy for depravity is proposed as that of the New Jersey Constitutional Commission.

There is but one recorded instance in the history of mankind, when the supply and distribution of water over the earth, was too much and too extensive. And although in this instance, the greater part of the human race had an over abundance, yet we cannot reasonably expect another fall of rain as great as Noah knew.

Wherever men have aggregated themselves in cities, the chiefest consideration which affects their health is the supply of water. The area from which it is obtained, being so much more circumscribed than the food furnishing territory, it is of vital importance to select a site where good water is plentiful. The science and skill of man has, however, overcome most obstacles which interpose in the securing of water for cities, and none worthy of the name depends on the wells and springs for their supply.

Sir William Furgusson recently, in an address before the British Medical Association, declared that the water supply of London belonged as much to the medical as to any other profession; and insisted that next to the treatment of disease and accident, it should stand foremost in the professional mind. There is no doubt but that typhoid fever and cholera are the immediate results of polluted or impure water; while many other maladies to which our section is peculiarly liable are produced by what we drink. A change of water too, frequently produces diseases; the system refuses to assimilate with the strange fluid, though, perhaps, no worse than that to which it has been accustomed, without a struggle.

The destitution of our city of an adequate supply of water for all purposes is remarkable. Under an economic aspect any scheme which promises an abundance of water in cases of fire, deserves attention and adoption; but when the sources of sickness are diminished by it, it becomes indispensible.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

— A Paris telegram to the Times states that Thiers intends to publicly advocate the prolongation of the term of MacMahon as President, thus depriving the monarchists of the support of the Left Centre, and probably preventing the dissolution of the monarchical coalition.

— Two miners were arrested by the police of Camborne, in Cornwall, on the 7th inst. Towards evening a mob of several thousand miners attempted a rescue, and attacked and brutally beat the police. Some buildings were gutted and several persons were injured and taken insensible to the hospital. Quiet was not restored until midnight.

— It is reported that when the Assembly is asked to vote in favor of the restoration of the monarchy and the election of Count de Chambord to the throne as King Henry V., M. Rouher will propose as a substitute that monarchical principle be established, but that it be left to the country to decide which monarchy is preferred.

— A meeting of the members of the extreme Left of the Assembly was held Wednesday, the session of which was very unharmonious. Among those present were M. M. Gambetta, Crement and Challemel Lacour. A number of letters from various provinces were read, expressing strong aversion to the establishment of a monarchy, which is daily increasing. Gambetta declared that he felt not the least anxiety concerning the permanency of the republic. He was certain the proposition to establish a monarchy could not obtain a vote of the majority of the Assembly.

— Senators Morton, of Indiana, Carpenter, of Wisconsin, Anthony, of Rhode Island, and Bayard, of Delaware, members of the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the United States Senate, on Wednesday, closed their conference, which has been continued from day to day for the past week at the Fifth avenue hotel in this city, in reference to the mode of electing the President. The Senate, just before adjourning, instructed the committee to examine the whole subject during the vacation, and report their conclusions at the next session of Congress. The following propositions were considered:

First. To abolish electoral colleges.

Second. That the President and Vice President shall be elected by the people voting directly for the candidates.

Third. That each State shall be divided into as many districts as the State is entitled to representatives in Congress, to be composed of contiguous territory, compact in form and as nearly equal in population as may be, and the person having the highest number of votes for President in each district shall receive the vote of that district for President, which shall count one Presidential vote; that each State shall be entitled to two Presidential votes at large, which shall be counted for the person having the highest number of votes in the whole State.

Fourth. The person having the highest number of such Presidential votes in the United States shall be President.

Fifth. These provisions to be applicable to the election of Vice President.

Sixth. Congress shall have power to provide for holding and conducting the election for President and Vice-President, and to establish tribunals for the decision of contests as to the vote in any district or State, and make regulations governing the proceedings of these tribunals. By the adoption of a district system of voting by the people directly for the candidate, with two Presidential votes in a State-at-large, and the plurality rule for determining the result, the election is brought nearly home to the people as can be not to make it an election by the nation as one community and it still recognizes the States as such, while it enables the people of each district in a State to express their will, so that hereafter a State need not cast a solid vote, as under the present system. It tends to dispense with the convention which is now necessary in order to form an electoral ticket for each State, and it enlarges the liberty of the individual voter, who can vote for any citizen he may select for President or Vice-President. By the plurality system an election will always be final, and there can be no necessity for an election by the House of Representatives, which is so much objected to. The plurality rule has been adopted successfully in the election of State officers, and it generally prevails in the election of members of Congress. In none of the States where it has been tried is there any thought of abandoning it. Other questions are considered in connection with tie votes in the States and districts, and providing the exigency of death or resignation of the President after election and before inauguration. These are suggestions which have been considered, but of course no conclusions could be arrived at.

STATE ITEMS.

— A negro burglar who had been shot, died in the Greenville jail last week.

— The Presbytery of Orange is holding its two hundred and seventh semi-annual session at Oxford this week.

— Hon. D. W. Voorhees has notified the Secretary of our State Fair that if no unforeseen occurrence prevents, he will be on hand at the appointed time to deliver his address.

— The farmers inform the Greensboro New North State that the abundant crop of corn and the immense quantity of acorns now falling will no doubt make pork extremely cheap.

— During the State Fair a special train will run between Raleigh and Goldsboro. The train leaves Goldsboro at 6 a. m. and arrives at Raleigh at 8.20 a. m.; returning, leaves Raleigh at 5.40 p. m., and reaches Goldsboro at 8 p. m.

— We learn from the Plaindealer that Mr. James A. Taft was shot and killed in his store, eleven miles below Greenville, by his clerk on the night of Sept. 30th. The shooting is supposed to have been accidental.

— The Commissioners of Greene county have reconsidered the Railway subscription matter, and have ordered an election to be held on the first Thursday in November. The amount to be voted on is $5,000 to the mile.

— The Piedmont Press says: "Harvey Hudson, of Catawba county, was found dead in the road leading from Morganton to Newton, near John Martin's, in Burke, on the evening of the 31st of September. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of 'accidentally killed by faliing from his horse.' When last seen he was very much intoxicated and was riding at a furious speed."

— The Hillsboro Recorder says: "Mr. William Overby, of Fayetteville, informs us that his father is still living in Surry county at the age of 114 years. He was born in Mecklenburg county, Va., in the year 1759. His mental faculties are unimpaired, his memory bright and accurate, and his eyesight perfect. His physical powers are failing, he having been an invalid for about eighteen months, from breaking one of his legs by a fall. His habits of life have been such as to set at defiance all the rules and theories of the abstemist. He has lived like all the mountaineers, eating abundantly, drinking freely but never excessively, and using tobacco since early manhood. His wife died during the war, at the age of ninety. The pair were the parents of sixteen children, eleven of whom reached maturity. The oldest son is living, a vigorous man of eighty-three, and the oldest daughter, at the age of eighty, is a great-great-grand-mother.

Why should a writer like the letter G? Because it makes old pens gold pens.

THE TOWN CRIER.

— Mild.

— Gold is 108⅛.

— Fix the sidewalks.

— State Fair next week.

— Hon. Geo. Davis returned.

— Oysters are in great demand.

— Let us try the Artificial Stone.

— Beautiful moonlight last night.

— Wyman still continues to draw.

— Lent's Circus comes to see us on Monday next.

— Please hand in your Church notices before 12 o'clock to-morrow.

— Don't forget that the Grange meets at the Court House Saturday night.

— Advertisers must hand in their favors before noon to insure their insertion.

— Currency is becoming more plentiful, and faces are shortening up somewhat.

— "Harry" Webb will remove in a few days to the corner of Princess and Front streets, where he will keep a first class restaurant.

— We are happy to learn that Prof. Tamburello has kindly consented to assist at the Concert for the benefit of the Oxford Asylum on the 22d inst.

— It is, in our opinion, foolish to bring cotton or naval stores to the city, and then pay storage and insurance on it for a month or two, hoping for a rise.

— Fiddlers made night hideous in the neighborhood of the river last night. Have they no ears? We know they have no sympathy for suffering humanity.

— Bro. Cassidey, of the POST, had a birthday this week, but he made no fuss over it. He don't look any older, for he's used to this sort of a thing, you know.

EDITOR EVENING POST:

SIR: I feel myself agrieved by the article on "dead cats," which appeared in the POST of last evening. There is not a single cat about my premises, dead or alive, and for you to put me on record before our people, in such an odorous manner, is more than my good nature can endure. I therefore demand that you retract this odorous article by declaring that it was not on the corner of RED ⋈.

Of course the POST cannot retract. The POST said the dead cats were on that corner and they must have been there—but there are generally four corners at such places, and we will claim that the cats were on the vacant lot. Will that do?—[ED. POST.

Firemen's Convention.

By request we publish the following circular letter relating to this convention:

To the Colored Firemen of the State of North Carolina:

We, the undersigned firemen and members of companies of the different cities and towns of this State, have agreed to issue and publish our call for a convention of the Colored Firemen of this State, to assemble at the city of Raleigh on the 15th of October.—The convention will be held in the Victor Company Hall of that city, commencing at 10½ o'clock A. M.—The object of the Convention is to establish a united understanding with all the colored firemen in the State, in regard to our future welfare and prosperity. We believe it to be our duty to assist in extinguishing any and all fires that may occur in any city or town in this State. We believe a good reliable fire company in any town is as an insurance company. We further believe our movement will encourage those who are ready and willing to build up the good old North State. We hope that all colored companies in North Carolina, whose intentions are to protect property with their labor against fire, will comply with the request for a Convention by sending delegates thereto. The said Convention will be composed of five delegates appointed from each colored fire company in the State, or each company is entitled to five votes on all questions in the Convention. Also, every company is solicited to attend in full, as it is an important object.

Very respectfully,
ED. E. TUCKER,
E. HAVENS, Newbern.
JAS. H. JONES,
H. C. JONES, Raleigh.
J. HILL,
Z. B. FREEMAN, Wilmington.
J. S. EGLES,
JOSHUA CAUNCIER, Fayetteville.

THE GREAT TRIPPLE CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.—The Great Eastern eslishment—pronounced by all the most extensive and complete in the country—is meeting with unprecedented success along the line of the W. and W. R. R. At Rocky Mount, Tuesday, over six thousand tickets were sold, and at Tarboro on Wednesday, and at Wilson on Thursday, the capacious pavilions were crowded by people from all directions.

It is pronounced by the Western press the most gigantic affair of the age, and as thorough in all its departments, comprising the dazzling splendors of the arena, the instructive wonders of zoology, and the attractive curiosities of the museum, that will greatly amuse, instruct and benefit the public taste for a moral entertainment, and will at once display the wonderful accomplishments of genius and art.

It will be borne in mind that the Great Eastern comes to us with all the appliances and appointments of a grand double equestrian combination—running at the same moment two full companies, each striving to outdo the other, and the whole forming a show unparalleled in merit and novelty. The great menagerie is beyond description, and the living wonders must be seen in Wilmington, as elsewhere, to be properly and fully appreciated.

Three bands of music and a grand steam piano, with all the late improvements, will announce the arrival of the Great Eastern on Wednesday next, 15th, when will be given three exhibitions, the joyous event to be preceded by a brilliant street display.

THE following letter explains itself. Our people will not close their ears to such an appeal:

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 9th, 1873.

To the Citizens of Wilmington:

As directed by a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held to-day, I would make an earnest appeal to you for aid to our sister city of Memphis, in this her hour of despair.

A once pestilential, stricken community, need no words to portray to them the utter distress and urgent needs of our neighbors at this time; and I trust that the mere mention of the fact will result in a prompt and liberal donation for their relief by each individual, according as God has given him the ability.

Any amounts left with either of the Editors of the daily papers, R. W. Andrews, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, or myself, will be promptly transferred by telegraph and acknowledged through the papers.

Very respectfully,
Your ob'dt servant,
W. L. DEROSSET, President.

The Greensboro' New North State says that in the United States Court, Judge Dick ordered the assignee, in the case of Oliver P. Cox, bankrupt, to re-convey the reversionary interest of Cox in his homestead. The order was based upon the petition of the bankrupt, showing that he had obtained his discharge; that no debts had been proved against his estate, and that there were no assets in the hands of the assignee, except the reversionary interest. This gives Cox a fee simple title to his land. In announcing the decision, his honor stated that in all such cases, if no debts have been proved within six weeks after the discharge has been obtained, a like order will issue to assignees, upon notice of the bankrupt that such order will be applied for.
